

1st Diagram - shows the general idea of how the layered structure would look. This diagram shows the associations between each component per level.

2nd Diagram - A more detailed component architectural design. This diagram shows the dependencies between each component.

